

Creative Instructional Grants 2018-2019 Recipients

Beaverdam Elementary School

Graphic Novels Facilitate Nonfiction Comprehension - Dianna MacPherson

Cold Harbor Elementary School

Tower Garden – Kelsey Zeilinger

VCU Market Day – Sarah Cross & Rory Tufaro

Elmont Elementary School

One School, One Book – Charlotte’s Web – Jennifer Larson

Henry Clay Elementary School

The Cub Library on the Go: Putting Books into the Hands of our Students to Prevent Summer Slide – Melissa Matthews & Lisa Talley

Kersey Creek Elementary School

Bluebots Help Innovate Practice & Review – Kim Jameson-Dean

Using Language Rich Books to Promote Literacy and IEP Goal Success – Christine Pope

Laurel Meadow Elementary School

A Whole New World: A Hundred Thousand Things To See! – Elizabeth Verlander

Breakout - Collaborate & Listen! – Kim Allen & Sonja McGinnis

Digital Literacy and the 4 C’s in Art – Jamesha Hairston

Nonfiction Research Tubs – Amy Kuti & Theresa Smither

One School, One Book – Hilary Coakley & Michele Kaloski

Mechanicsville Elementary School

Fabricate, Illuminate, Communicate – Maureen Ambrose & Tamara Letter

Hands on Science Kits – Ellen Burgess & Jennifer Smith

Hear Ye! Hear Me! – Ellen Burgess & Tamara Letter

Kindness Begins with Me – Lori Cross & Jennifer Madison

Unlocking Possibilities – Maureen Ambrose & Kristy Banton

Oak Knoll Middle School

Breakout + Bot = Success – Cindy Burns

The 21st Century Classroom: Stage One – Rachelle Jones

Pole Green Elementary School

Books to Read to Help Succeed: Connecting Home and School – Tammy King & Kellie Vaughan

Math Flashback SOL Review Book – Amy Miller & Jennifer Washburn

Social Studies Reading Interactive Notebook – Amy Miller & Jennifer Washburn

The Village Project – Sydney Ellis

The Virtual World in our Classrooms – Lori Schoenwiesner & Robin Smith

South Anna Elementary School

40 Book Challenge – Exploration of Genres – Kourtney Grant

Stonewall Jackson Middle School

Touching History: Learning History by Hand in the Tactile History Lab – Kimberly McQuillen