Jefferson Lakeside Country Club

The 1915 Donald Ross golf course is a testament to the enduring viability of quality design that hews to the natural terrain. The course is not long by modern standards, lies on a very small piece of prime real estate, and uses every inch of it to maximum effect. If you can make it through the first four holes, you will breathe a sigh of relief as Mr. Ross's routing begins to show its gentler nature. But don't let your guard down just yet. Number 5 is the toughest 320 yard par 4 in the area.

Jefferson Lakeside Country Club's golf course is the most naturally beautiful golf course in the Richmond area. The course plays through the woods with no houses on the golf course. There are hawks, geese, and the occasional bald eagle gracing the landscape.

Much of the course's natural beauty can be attributed to the unaltered terrain and large variety of trees. Many of these trees were personally selected and imported from Europe by the original property owner, Lewis Ginter.
